

Jimmie's Chicken Shack, Smiling

ohh ohh ohh

had a dream last night you cared and asked me how i am well i am sometimes the road to victory takes leads to no good end and we bend and it's pure as the sun as sure as the sky you miss out on me singing it's time to fly change has begun so cease your regrets i make good mistakes and i'm not over yet i won't give up on me like you did i choose to let myself see the good in not breathing for you but you wish you could be smiling

smiling

and i wake up but don't look in the mirror walk downtown as if it one day it might come clearer think i'll see you but you couldn't be farther picture a little girl that could have been my daughter hope you live up to be what you will i choose to keep myself free and the truth is i always think of you but you will think of me

smiling
smiling

now i stand quiet and still smiling you know i swallow that pill smiling i guess i can't get my fill of smiling going alone i will smiling breathing is really cool, i love my life every reason in the world to be smiling breathing is really cool, and i love my life

every reason in the world to be smiling
breathing is really cool, and i love my life
every reason in the world to be smiling

ohh ohh ohh
yeah yeah yeah