

Jimmy Dean, I Really Don't Want To Know

How many arms have held you and hated to let you go
How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know
How many lips have kissed you and set your soul aglow
How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know
So always make me wonder and always make me guess
And even if I ask you darling don't confess
Just let it remain me your secret cause darling I love you so
How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know
No I really don't want to know want to know
