

Jimmy Dean, My Own Peculiar Way

It would be a comfort to know you'd never doubt me
Even though I give you cause most every day
Sometimes I think that you'd be better off without me
Although I love you in my own peculiar way
Though I may not always be the way you'd have me be
Though my faults may grow in number day by day
Let no one ever say I ever been untrue I'll always love you in my own peculiar way

Don't doubt my love if sometimes my mind should wonder
To a suddenly remembered yesterday
My thoughts could never stay too long away from you
Because I love you in my own peculiar way
Though I may not...
I'll always love you in my own peculiar way
