

Jimmy Eat World, Softer (She's Perfect)

She's perfect in her own way
Smoke rings rising to the winter grey
She's perfect in her own way
Shining, stepping off a silver train

Now I'm getting a sick taste in my mouth
From the medicine that I can't keep... down

She's amazing in her own way
Always moving to a better place
She's amazing in her own way
Laughing, you won't get to her weaker traits

Now I'm getting that sick taste in my mouth
From the medicine that I can't keep down
You know time heals nothing by itself
I see that ever so clearly now

She looks just a little bit different now
Maybe a little bit softer around her eyes

Just a little bit different now
Maybe a little bit softer around her eyes

The lights had just gone out at Rockefeller Center
Take it slow and make it softer
Easy likes it nice and steady (x4)

Now I'm getting that sick taste in my mouth
From the medicine that I can't keep down
You know time heals nothing by itself
I see that ever so clearly now
