Jimmy McCarthy, The Contender (Aka Jack Doyli

When I was young and I was in my day Sure I'd steal what woman's heart there was away And I'd sing into the dawning Saw a blaze into the morning Long before I was the man you see today.

I was born beneath the star that promised all I could live my life between cork cobh and youghal But the wheel of fortune took me From the highest point she shook me By the bottle, by the bottle I should fall

Chorus

There in the mirror on the wall I see the dream is fading From the contender to the fall The ring, the rose, the matador, raving

When I die I'll die a drunk down on the street He will count me out to ten in clear defeat Wrap the Starry Plough around me Let the pipers air resound me there There I rest until the Lord of Love I meet

Chorus

There in the mirror on the wall I see the dream is fading From the contender to the brawl The ring, the rose, the matador, raving.
