

Jimmy Nail, Real Love and when the shouting's over where do you go?

And when you're a wounded soldier who wants to know?
And when there's just no getting through to you pull back the clouds and take a glimpse of the sky when love comes down it's just like learning to fly there's no harm that's gonna come to you you're not in danger any more real love can climb any mountain real love as big as the sky it's a mysterious thing how it begins
you search for a life-time but it won't let you in and then it's there there's a joy that runs through everything you do through somebody's love you become alive
real love as wide as a mile real love as deep as the ocean
