

Jimmy Nail, Right To Know

words and music by Jimmy Nail my arms are just as strong as his arms but my arms had to let you go you walked straight into his arms hadn't I the right? hadn't I the right to know? my heart is really such a big heart with big love and room enough to grow so my heart was summarily ripped apart but I hadn't I the right? hadn't I the right to know?
I want to tell everybody all around the world to stay away from you 'cause you're a wicked girl but no can do I'm still in love with you
'cause in a world gone crazy where nothing rhymes the breaking of a heart is just a small-beer crime even so, I think I had a right to know one day when all of this is far away I'll say "that's the way it goes" until then let me remember when I held you oh, so tight, I think I had a right to know I want to tell everybody all around the world to stay away from you 'cause you're a bad bad girl but you know me, too much decency
'cause in a world gone crazy where nothing rhymes and breaking someone's heart is just a small-beer crime even so, I think I had a right to know
