

Jimmy Page, Who's To Blame

Not perfect and not complete, but close. Hopefully someone can clean this up:

that cruel game
where the winners join the losers
in the blame

who's to blame
when the love light dips and fades
who's to blame

both feel the innocence neither of them ever felt the blame

a crying shame
to destroy ones only "enfield?", whos to blame a picture frame, where you can still see them together!

where the winners join the losers
in the blame

and now the flame burns down for two in love...

both feel they're innocent

a day of frame, for all to see in black and white who's to blame?

she has his name, "that just powdered night - evening?"

he's to blame

who's to blame, who's to blame...
