

Jimmy Robbins, Seven Letters (Goodbye)

Verse 1

Sing me something that you mean
From your heart and straight to me
Every word will be in key, except for one
Those seven letters I hate most
You're screaming through your car window
As you're moving past, you're driving fast away
Yeah you dress it up so nice
Thinking I won't hear it right
But no matter what the adjective, I know that I heard this is

Chorus

Only for the best, only for the best
Looking, looking out for you looking out for you
Trying hard to make this easier
Only for the best only for the best there's no
Use in getting mad, use in getting mad over
Good-byes, good-byes, there's no point in

Verse 2

Singing something that you mean
Your truth has lost its honesty
Besides, the words aren't in key except for one
Those seven letters I hate most
You're screaming through your car window
As you're moving past, you're driving fast away
Yeah you dress it up so nice
Thinking I won't hear it right
But no matter what the adjective, I know that I heard this is

Bridge

Making this longer than it has to be
I'd hate to break your heart, but I so hate subtlety
You're singing along to every song
You never knew we were about you, so catch yourself singing
