Jimmy Somerville, Tomorrow

Red (Somerville/Coles)

Like the knife of a thief that's held close to the throat I'm threatened by you and the cruel way you gloat You once turned me on, now all it seems so remote You broke me in pieces, you cherished each blow; The harder you hit me, the stronger I grow I'll leave you tomorrow, take my pride and I'll go You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul

I've had all I can take

I'm leaving tomorrow

I'm leaving tomorrow

I'm leaving, I've had all I can take

Don't tell me you love me, your tears are too late Your trap was deception, and I took the bait The animal in you, you can't keep at bay I'm not your possession to treat as you wish Your silence will slowly destroy you each day

I'm leaving tomorrow, my love for life is great You may break the skin but you can't kill the soul

I've had all I can take

I'm leaving tomorrow

I'm leaving tomorrow

I'm leaving, yes I'm leaving

You broke me in pieces, you cherished each blow; The harder you hit me, the stronger I grow I'll leave you tomorrow, take my pride and I'll go I'm leaving tomorrow... (to fade)
