

JJ72, Surrender

my stupid short
hall swimming flight
engulfed with my
magic light
days of years
years of days
to go
and everythings upside down
and down around we go
but still my thoughts are surrendered
bang and light
that's all they do
beings like gods
there are too few
holding on to the last dance tonight
and down around we go
pale face in a beach scent piers of nothing remain cement days of school
learning how to smile
and everythings upside down
and down around we go
bang and light
that's all they do
beings like gods
