

Jo Davidson, Fragile Tough Girl

Music and lyrics by Jo Davidson

When times are the worst you see who you've got you know what is real and you find out what is not

I thought I had something but now I hurt so bad you think you have friends that you don't really have. . . oh

I'm a fragile tough girl break me if you can but

I'm a fragile tough girl
steady as a tree
and life is. . . messy

Everyone has a ladder but at the top it's just another one none of it will matter in the end if you don't love someone the wounds that hurt the most are the wounds you cannot see I thought for sure when I needed you you'd be here for me chorus repeat

well you thought you were so wise to tell me I'd grow from all the pain and yet you were never here for me even when I called your name I can take a slap like the best of them but when it hurts too much to feel I just dress my heart up in these bandages of steel oh i'm a fragile tough girl

so don't mess with me don't mess with me cause I'm a fragile tough girl oh

and life is messy.
