

Joan Osborne, Beautiful Side Of Madness

Tonight is dying
I need some company
Let's go to your place
Call it serenity
I won't talk about your drinking
You won't tell me "comb my hair"
We won't say nothing
we'll just sit there and stare
Into the beautiful side of madness
Into the beautiful side of madness
Oh, won't you take me back again
We lost a lot of laughter
We lost a lot of nights
But I ain't seen nobody
Oh, that always get it right
I like your eyes
Just a little madness in the blue
And I know I'm goin' crazy
But at least I'm going there with you
Into the beautiful side of madness
Oh yes, into the beautiful side of madness
Oh, won't you take me back again
You're such a languid lover
Ohhh, it's a long slow ride
Nobody knows, nobody knows
Nobody knows, nobody knows
How beautiful it is on the other side
Into the beautiful side of madness
Oh yes, into the beautiful side of madness
Oh, won't you take me back again?
Won't you take me back again?
Won't you take me back again?
