

Jodi Benson, Tomorrow is Another Day

Come along
Will there be sunshine shinin'
Will we find a silver linin'
Come along

Sing a song
When today becomes tomorrow
We'll we find joy or sorrow
Sing a song

Is it wrong
To put all our hopes together
And wish for something better?
Is it wrong?

To be loved?
To face the future with another
Who means more than any other
Is to be loved

We'll paint the gray clouds
With pretty rainbow hues
And we'll brush the gloom away
And save it for a rainy day
Rainy day, oh today

If troubles cast a shadow
And shadows make the sun afraid to stay
But it's okay
'Cause there'll be sunshine shinin'
And we'll find a silver linin'
Another day

Tomorrow is another day
How I hope you'll always stay

Tomorrow is another day
