

Jody Miller, We Had Love All The Way

When you've loved someone so long say as long as I've loved you
What you feel is more than words could ever say
Things that really matter to us both seem to bring us closer every day
You have never doubted me and I find no fault with you
And our love keeps us together come what may
We have weathered each storm that has darken our day
Safe in each other's arms we had love all the way
We have weathered each storm...
We've had love all the way
