

Joe Dolan, The Answer To Everything

Don't ask me, a mountain of questions,
When there is only one answer to it all.
Do you love me? Really love me? As I love you,
It's the answer to everything, if you do.
Don't give me a million excuses,
When I'm waiting, with my arms, open wide.
Do you love me? Really love me? As I love you,
It's the answer to everything, if you do.
If there is someone else, some other place,
Who holds your heart,
Tell me now, truthfully, before we start.
Don't act like, you misunderstand me,
When there is simply no mystery to it all.
Do you love me? Really love me? As I love you,
It's the answer to everything, if you do.
