

Joe Ely, Wind's Gonna Blow You Away

Well its cheek to cheek and its face to face
If I told ya once, I told ya twice
East is east, west is west
Fire is fire an ice is ice

That wind&#039;s gonna blow tomorrow
Just like it blow&#039;d today
But someday when your bones turn to dust
That wind&#039;s gonna blow you away

In the pale moonlight, in the cold campfire light
I have danced in burnin coals
Well it ruined my shoes but it cured my blues
All i wanted was to soothe my soul and

That wind&#039;s gonna blow tomorrow
Just like it blow&#039;d today
But someday when your bones turn to dust
That wind&#039;s gonna blow you away

Now mistakes are all right if you make them yourself
But they ain&#039;t worth a damn if they&#039;re not your own
You can sing the blues you can read the news
You can dance off in the dark all alone, but

That wind&#039;s gonna blow tomorrow
Just like it blow&#039;d today
But someday when your bones turn to dust
That wind&#039;s gonna blow you away

From the piney woods to the great south plains
From the Red River to the Rio Grande
I have crossed some streams, I have lost some dreams
I&#039;ve seen that golden circle in the sand
