

Joe Jackson, Nineteen Forever

Sometimes I feel so alive
Sometimes I see so clear
Just like the way we always were
So young and free from fear
I lose my fear of war and dying and all the clouds just disappear
Only my mirror sees me crying
Each time I lose another year . . .
Wouldn't be a drag to be like you Settling down and having kids and telling them what to do Well I'm gonna stay . . .19 forever
We can do magic in these times be what we want to be We'll all be rock 'n' roll stars immortal on TV
And if you see me looking tired
I've just been sleeping thought the day
But I got something to keep me wired
So we can dance the night away
Wouldn't it be a drag to be like them
They're gonna sell out everything
But I won't get fooled again
Cause I'm gonna be . . .19 forever
You better believe it - you know my dream's still alive
You can love it or leave it
But I'm never gonna be 35
