

Joe Jackson, Only The Future

Something's coming
Something big
Something I can't stand
Dark as the ocean
Secret and cruel
Something I can't command
Something's waiting
Down a mugger's alley
To see what's on my mind
Take a deep breath
Start walking faster
It's dark, but I'm not blind
You never know
If I push at this wall
My hand could pass through
So
This cloud of unknowing
Could disappear too
It's only the future
