

Joe Lynn Turner, Black Sun

Here we come the masters of deception
Selling illusion till you're deaf dumb and blind
One by one you're losing all perception
Manipulate your life cause we control your mind

You know you live a life of pain and you know it never changes
Got no pity got no shame and you're the only one to blame

Here we come
Yeah the black sun is on the rise the dark days have arrived
Not a moment of truth in sight no one gets out alive
Here we come

Hold you down till you can't even breathe
Cut you to the bone and they wanna watch you bleed
Hit the ground but you're too weak to see
Thinking that your free while you're living on your knees

Oh your life is an illusion and the truth is just a lie
Oh you're lost in the confusion you better open up your eyes

Here we come
Yeah the black sun is on the rise the dark days have arrived
Not a moment of truth in sight no one gets out alive
Here we come
Yeah the black sun is on the rise
Dark days have arrived
You better run and hide cause the black sun on the rise

We sweat and struggle our lives away till our hearts have turned to stone
Oh it looks like we can't find a better way so we live and die alone
Searching for truth inside a dream no one will save our souls
Nothing is real not what it seems dark forces take control

Here we come
Yeah the black sun is on the rise the dark days have arrived
Not a moment of truth in sight no one gets out alive
There's a black sun on the rise dark days have arrived
You better run and hide there's a black sun on the rise
