

Joe Pace, Running Over

Pressed down shaken together; running over, running over (4)
When you give unto the Lord
He will give you more
So cheerfully now bring your offering
And you'll have blessings running over, running over
Blessings running over, running over

Pressed down shaken together; running over, running over (2)
When you give unto the Lord
He will give you more
So cheerfully now bring your offering
And you'll have blessings running over, running over
Blessings running over, running over

When you give unto the Lord
He will give you more
So cheerfully now bring your offering unto the Lord!

The windows of heaven will open unto you running over, blessings running over.

So many blessings you want have any room
running over, blessings running over

The windows of heaven will open unto you
running over, blessings running over.

So many blessings you want have any room
running over, blessings running over

When you give unto the Lord
He will give you more
So cheerfully now bring your offering unto the Lord!

The windows of heaven will open unto you
running over, blessings running over.

So many blessings you want have any room
running over,
Blessings running over (repeat)
