

Joe Purdy, Abbie's Song

Oh, river with your water so clear i can see straight to the bottom while you stand so still no, river with its beauty you've found and you act just like a mirror with your sun ?
you act just like a mirror
with your sun ?

i'm so selfish
wont you forgive me my haste but i hope you last forever at least all my days

no, river with your island so green well i think they are the prettiest that i've ever seen

no, river with your water so calm and i will not forget you wherever i roam oh, i will not forget you wherever i roam

or at least all of my days at least all of my days

so i will drink the whiskey and we will drink the rain
