

Joe Purdy, Just Another Old Love Song

come on in out of the cold, lay your cares on me, cause when your here there's nothing wrong you're as far as i can see

just another old love song comin' down and I've been trying to make you understand that my love for you is real and I can feel it when you take my hand when I'm holding you near let me hold you near

so if you feel the sun is sinking down just call out my name cause i would make this whole world spin around just to see you again

just another love song comin' down
