

Joe Walsh, All Of A Sudden

You don't understand it

All of a sudden something's wrong

You take it for granted

All of a sudden time is gone

You put a little distance in between it

Hope it makes sense later on

You don't know what happened

Dreams never turn out like you planned

The next moment you wake up

Stranded in a one night stand

You put a little distance in between it

Until you seen it hope that later on

I know it's hard to wait that long

But right now baby

We both agree, something's wrong

Something's wrong

All of a sudden

May be weak and try again

But baby, baby, baby I don't know when

Until then

You put a little distance in between it

Until we seen it

Maybe later on

I know it's hard it seems so long

We both agree, oh baby

I know, I know.
