Joe Walsh, Here We Go

I see the sun rise Here comes the day Where sunrise comes from I am not knowing I see with stained eyes Help find my way It all surrounds me It is all snowing, flowing Here we go I hear a calling Each one by name And so many don't hear They think it's the same old thing I feel us falling Back where we came It all astounds me Is it a sad thing, bad thing I don't know Oh no