

Joe, New Better Than You

I see the sun much brighter since you went away,
I'm doing better than you think girl...
I see the sky much clearer since you went away,
I'm doing better than you...
(I'm doing better than you think girl)
Just how we forget,
I get lost in words when I'm desperate for them...
I have no regrets,
Took the long way home but I finally found that...
There's not much to say to you,
I found the truth,
I always knew...
(I always knew)
This won't get that through you to,
'Cause I got way too much to do...

I see the sun much brighter since you went away,
I'm doing better than you think girl...
I see the sky much clearer since you went away,
I'm doing better than you...

I see the sun much brighter since you went away,
I'm doing better than you think girl...
I see the sky much clearer since you went away,
I'm doing better than you...
(I'm doing better than you think girl...)

Lost in disguise,
There's a world I knew that I left behind me...
In my demise,
I was scared by views that you always doubt me...
All that has turned around,
I left the town,
Those days are through
(Those days are through),
As for their point of view,
Those shallow words are coming true...

I see the sun much brighter since you went away,
I'm doing better than you think girl...
I see the sky much clearer since you went away,
I'm doing better than you...

I see the sun much brighter since you went away,
I'm doing better than you think girl...
I see the sky much clearer since you went away,
I'm doing better,
So what you want me to do?
I'm doing better,
I got a life without you...

(Not sure if there right)
