

Joe, One Last Day

Give me the hope that I need and the strength to believe That I could just have one last day.

Im trying to find the perfect words to say I know I cant convince you either way but i will try thats ok if only I could put the blame on you and swallow all the pain you put me through thats just what i should do

Chorus

if you leave, dont leave now just one day, give me more than just doubt give me the hope that i need and all the strength to believe if i could just have one last day

All i ever need is in your eyes and maybe your my angel in disguise
If im wrong tell me why I thought that I could trust you with my heart
Than you leave me here to fall apart Dont know how,. but i'll make it through

chorus(3)

Maybe im running out of time feels like my rivers running dry if this things for real, only if you knew how i feel chorus(3x)
