

Joel Plaskett Emergency, Maybe We Should Just

I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
Where the hell am I?
The cars have no doors
The sun sets in the east everyday at 4
Tell me where I am
What's going on
The babies have 3 eyes

I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home

Where the hell am I?
It never rains or snows
I knew when I arrived
That it was time to go
Who, what, where and why
The locals hate my guts

I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home

Something evil lies beneath the surface of the earth
We gotta get out of this place before it gets us first
It was a cold, driving rain
And the wind so strange
That chilled and killed my Annabel Lee

I didn't think
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should just go home
I didn't think we'd be out here on our own
Maybe we should
