

Joel Plaskett, Nina And Albert

Nina, Nina
Nobody knows where you've been
I looked everywhere
From the Arctic to the Argentine
Nina, Nina
Darling, come darken my door
We had tougher times
But what'd we wanna go there for?

Every waking hour looking for a friend
Trying to get it started before we reach the end

Nina, Nina
All I asked for was "goodbye"
Now I'm driving 'cross the desert
Watching lightning skip across the sky

Albert, let's not fight
I've been driving across West Texas all the night
When a storm came down upon me
Why you're angry is beyond me
Is there something I can do to make it right?

Albert, you're my man
Nobody can love me like you can
But if you're coming around behind
Lover, don't you try to find me
I'll look you up when I think you'll understand

Albert, Ronald Reagan died today
I pulled over to the side of the highway and I cried today
Black clouds hang above us
Does anybody love us?
