

Joey Albert, Back In My Arms

Let me tell you all the things that I've been through
All the lonely days I spend simply missin' you
The emptiness I felt without you
Endless tears I cried for you each night

Words are not enough to say what I feel today
Can't describe this feelin'; but I know it's here to stay
I was afraid that I have lost you
But fate's been kind 'cause now I found you again

CHORUS

Back in my arms again (back in my arms again)
This time, our love will be forever
Back in my arms again (back in my arms again)
I'll cherish it now more than ever
I can't believe you're back in my arms again
