

Joey Eppard, Been To The Future

She lives by the virtue of daytime TV
Alone in the suburbs
And he fills up a bottle and drinks from the scene
He will always be thirsty
And they shiny examples of human decay
Here let me show you
That I woke up this morning still morning a dream
I've been to the future x 4

I hear somewhere the cricus is said to be near
Another distraction
And I fear will you be next to me this time next year
Will you be over
But wait, just as you leap from the nest for the wind
But I never told you
That I, woke up this morning still morning a dream
I've been to the future x 4

Repeat after me
She is all i have
Well, Then why choose me
Repeat after me
She is all I have
Tell my why
She's all i have
Tell me why
She's all i have

Today, All the illusions are fading away
I've drawn my conclusion
But wait, just as you leave from the nest for the wind
But I never told you,
When you woke up this morning you spoke of a dream
But you don't remember
A man emptied a bottle and held out his hand
But how did he know you
He said look out below you
I got somehting to show you
Just be glad that I told you
Into the future x 6
