

Joey McIntyre, Love Me That Way

Ohhhh.....yeah, Hey...
Dream if you like,
that's what my mama told me yeah
So here I am
Well you always were my closest friend,
and I don't want that to change.
Baby listen, what I gotta say,
it isn't easy, but I'll try.

So long my eyes been starry,
could you ever love me that way?
There's no need to say I'm sorry,
could you ever love me that way?

Well your eyes they look so different now,
Do they have something to say.
Well I wanna make it easy now...
if you want let's take walk, so we can talk....baby.
I get the feeling you're holding back on me.
It's a feeling you can't deny.

So long my eyes been starry,
could you ever love me that way?
There is no need to say I'm sorry,
could you ever love me that way?

I've been walling along in the dark
I'm been looking forever hoping to see
The love my life standing right in front of me

What took you so long to say,
you're been feeling the same way?
I'm so tired of hiding the truth
I love you.....

For so long my eyes been starry,
I've been waiting for you
I've been waiting for you
I've know it for so long, you know it can't be wrong
You know that its true, baby I love you

(There is no need to say I'm sorry,)
Don't say your sorry
Just say you love me
Don't say you're sorry
