

Johan, Everybody Knows

Everybody knows
Today is gonna be the day, it's in the air
I suppose, no-one's really got a clue why you are here
Just a face in the crowd

Can you play that game, tonight
Tomorrow will be different, it's a simple fact
When you're named, there is no-one around the world who goes and stopping you
And you know that, cause you're faster than a bullet from a loaded gun
It's in your hand, come and get it on

Everybody knows this is your finest hour
A shooting star, that's what you are, this is your time

It's the final dance
Now this could be the moment you were waiting for
Take your chance, don't let it slip away now
You're almost there, you step into the light

Steady gun in your hand, come and get it done

Everybody knows this is your finest hour
A shooting star, that's what you are, this is your time

The party has ended with a shock
Now look at you, what have you done

Everybody knows this is your finest hour
A shooting star, that's what you are, this is your time
When I all comes down
Everybody knows this is your final hour
A shooting star, that's what you are, this is your time
