

John Berry, He Makes Me Want Her Again

There is something in her smile everyone loves so much
No matter what she wears she looks like a million bucks
The woman's so graceful so much in love he makes me want her again
She's made it all work out the way it was meant to be
The trouble with doin' that is not doin'that with me
He makes her happy he makes her whole and he makes me want her again
Whatever he's made of makes her so sure
Cause he makes the dream I had for us come true for her

She's such a perfect mom the boy's almost half her size
He thinks he looks like her but I know he's got my eyes
He is an angel but he breaks my heart cause he makes me want her again
Whatever he's made of...
He makes her happy he breaks my heart he makes me want her again