

John Berry, Today

It started with one look kept on getting stronger
What I've been holding back won't be held back any longer
Let me say to you what my heart's been longing to Every night I've dreamed about you every day tried to make it come true
Every star shining up in heaven reminds me of you
Every road I've ever taken every choice I've ever made
Has lead me right here to you today

I been afraid to tell you didn't know how you'd react
With all this love I have to give couldn't go on feeling like that Now my silence is broken and it's left my heart wide open
Every night I've dreamed about you...

No nothing's in my way no more running no more hiding no I'm not afraid
Every night I've dreamed about you...