

John Butler, Peaches And Cream

Well there's far too many questions to ask,
To answer any of them tonight.
For I wear too many masks,
Too tell if any of them are wrong or right.
And confusion casts a shadow up on me,
Like a great big cloud in the sky.
And now I pray for rain,
Cause it's been so long since i let myself cry.

For so long I've sang this sad ol' song,
And it feels like my time is up.
For she came and landed in my arms,
And she filled my half empty cup.
Yes she filled my half empty cup.

There you are right in front of me,
A brand new day sunrise over sea.
No longer my cup half empty cause there you are,
You and your mum in front of me, in front of me.

And now I look up above me,
And I thank that great ol' God in the sky.
For tellin' me my cup ain't half empty,
It took my little girl to show me why.

for so long i sing this sight ful song
and it feels like my time is up
for she came and landed in my arms
and she filled my half emty cup yes she filled my half emty cup

there you are right in front of me
a brand new day
sunrise over sea
no longer my cup half emty cause there you are you and your mum in frount of me

You're peaches & cream to me.
You both are peaches & cream to me.
you and your mum in front of me
peaches and cream
yo
boom boom boom
regeladylady
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo
boom boom boom
zhatoyamayamay
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo

all i know is
all i know
and i love you
ya i love you
all i know is
all i know
and i love you
ya i love you
all i know is
is i unkown
and i love you
i love you

boom boom boom
regeladylady
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo
boom boom boom
zhatoyamayamay
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo
boom boom boom
regeladylady
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo
boom boom boom
zhatoyamayamay
boom boom boom
ramppammaday yo