

John D. Loudermilk, To Hell With Love

You say I should lie looking you straight in the eye
That what you don't know ain't a gonna hurt you none
Well if it's square being honest with you
That's the kind of love you're speaking of then to hell with love
[strings]

You say steal regardless of the way I feel
Just a little extra lovin' on the side'll do me good
Well if it's wrong being honest with you
What you speak of you're calling love then to hell with love
[strings]

You say cheat that'll make love complete
So this is what this old world has finally slipped down to Cause if it's wrong being honest with you
Your love's not for me I hate to be speaking grossly
So pardon me but to hell with love
