John D. Loudermilk, What Would You Take for M

What would you take for me darling a Cadillac or an NK A twenty room mansion in Memphis with a big high wrought iron gate What would you take for me darling what would it cost me to stay Cause whatever the price I'd spend my whole life getting up the money to pay

What would you take for me darling the trips to far distand lands And diamonds and such mean more than a touch of your true lover's hand What would you take for me darling... Getting up the money to pay
