

John Farnham, Have A Little Faith In Us

See the lovers in the faded photograph She's making funny faces. He's trying
Not to laugh
Do you remember the way we used to be When love lifted us up, made us feel so free.
How we betrayed each other trying to rediscover that feeling once again
This is not the end
There's no ghost from the past, that we can't shake
Have a little faith in us (Have a little faith in us)
There's no history that we can't remake
Have a little faith in us
For all we know the best is yet to come
We like the wind under our wings, you and I
We stay on the ground too long we get that urge to fly
And it seems that the grass would be more green In any other place, with any change of scene
Here is the love we long for Open the secret door
And it will take us in
And sweep us off our feet again.
There's no ghost from the past
that we can't shake
Have a little faith in us (Have a little faith in us)
There's no history that we can't remake
Have a little faith in us (have a little faith in us)
there's no ghost from the past
that we can't shake
Have a little faith in us (Have a little faith in us)
There's no destiny that we can't create
Have a little faith in us
For all we know the best is yet to come.
And we can climb that mountain and go
Where this love has never gone before
And in our wildest heart of hearts we will know That we have been re-born.
There's no ghost from the past
that we can't shake
Have a little faith in us (have a little faith in us)
There's no history that we can't remake
Have a little faith in us (Have a little faith in us)
There's no destiny that we can't create
Have a little faith in us
For all we know the best is yet to come.
