

John Farnham, Keep Talking

Every time you speak
Every time you say the things you say
All the pain you put me through
Starts to melt away

You say "forgive me"
And you say your sorry now

Keep talking, I'm listening
Tell me from the heart
Keep talking, the words may lead you
Back into my arms
Baby make it real
Tell me how you really feel
Keep talking, keep talking, I'm listening

Every time we touch
I can feel it happening again
I can feel the magic
Coming back again

You say you changed now
And you say you want me back

Keep talking, I'm listening
Tell me from the heart
Keep talking, the words may lead you
Back into my arms
Baby make it real
Tell me how you really feel
Keep talking, keep talking, I'm listening

Tell me all the words I long to hear
Open up your heart and let me feel again

Tell me from the heart
Keep talking, the words may lead you
Back into my arms
Baby make it real
Tell me how you really feel
Keep talking, keep talking, I'm listening

Tell me from the heart
Keep talking, the words may lead you
Back into my arms
Baby make it real
Tell me how you really feel
Keep talking, keep talking, I'm listening
