

John Farnham, The Reason Why

Richard marx, and phil buckle

What did I do
Before the day I set my eyes on you?
Spending my time
Just working on the things I had to do
And then I saw your face
I was captured heart and soul
You gave me so much more

You're the reason why
I listen in the night
And steal the softest kisses
While you sleep
You're the reason why
Tears will fill my eyes
Just looking at a photograph of you

Touching my frown
Tell me what you read between the lines
Everything's alright
I know sometimes I act a little strange
You bring me so much joy

Conversations make me smile
How could I love you more

You're the reason why
I speak with foolish pride
Whenever there's a chance to Show you round
You're the reason why
I lost this heart of mine
At the very moment you arrived

I can't believe this life was ever lonely
No I can't imagine life before you

You're the reason why
I'm holding on so tight
I never want to let this feeling go
You're the reason why
My love will never die
My heart just could not sing if not for you

What did I do
Before the day I set my eyes on you
