

John Farnham, Undeniably Real

Yesterday haunts me still
Somebody just like you
She smiled the way you do
Memories are all too real
Was just too good to be true
Something as strong as this
Can never fade away

Undeniably real
True reflections of what I feel
There's no use hiding it
This thing inside of me still
Is undeniably real

Something inside ne says
I should be moving on
But I know where I belong
Only my heart can tell
It's much too hard to let go
Something as strong as this
Can never fade away
