

John Foxx, My Wild Love

my wild love is a love that goes deeper each day my wild dream is a dream of the sea my whole life, I feel is turning away from the man I thought I would be for my wild love, my wild love.... walking, I've been walking as the moon rose on the waves remembering how things used to be before everything was changed I see your face in stained glass windows I touch your heart, it's the heart of the sea you come to meet me through millions of sunsets no-one else would ever believe in my wild love my wild love.....
