

John Foxx, Someone

Someone who walks with you
Shines a light in everything you do
That someone
Someone you know from sleep
Seasons pass but some things never change
Like someone
Someone whose voice comes in from summer rooms
Who stands beside you when you least expect them to
That someone
Chorus:
Well I don't need to know, don't have to say
We'll go on living in the separate way
Oh, no need to tell, no need to explain
I'm so glad that it happened this way
And it's alright to walk with you
And it's okay to feel that way
And I feel that way
And a voice comes into mine
Saying things I almost recognise
That someone
Strange how moments last so long
Always with you long after they've gone
Like someone
Someone whose voice comes in from summer rooms
Who stands beside you when you least expect them to
That someone
Ah, that someone.
Ah, that someone
(Repeat chorus and fade)