John Frusciante, Dissolve

Flat on your back
Your senses are lost
And youre what you are
What you are Just cuz you mean
What you say Thats not saying That youre so far in the clean Nothings means anything

Blast of the past Your image dissolve And your life unresolved unresolved

we show that we fall apart we know it to be an art we know this is the only way things go because all youve seen is all you know all my children slaughter me all the what is thought to be all the snakes that are on my back look on back and never laugh nothing leaves your mind nothing mine is left behind nothing round your back believe me girl relax i'm in the breeze believe me nothing is seen really all is in the mind see me I am a lie really
