John Frusciante, Interstate Sex

Being in line is a dream I'm after I can take it easier so is fights Taking time is a way of light What this takes you here to brings you no lie

I'll be up high In the air Between your home I'll just get out You'll never die Chess book lay down You go places they don't take me

00000

You believe to goes a faces
Theres a way you all arrive
At a place wher you've combined
Every moment that winces make you feel right

A days a low you'll be low being light behind somewhere to go you way come back hearing things you say makes me blind It's all right the seasons change
