

John Hiatt, Rock Of Your Love

It ain't like I'm so tough
You shook me to the heart
You shook me sure enough

You turned my whole world upside down
I tried to run away but I just ran aground

On the rock of your love
On the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love
I found my living proof

You pierced through armor plated steel
You pierced me to my soul
You forced me to be real
I feel the strength of twenty men
When I am in your arms
I smash those fears again

On the rock of your love
On the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love
I found my living proof

I'm crashing like a wave tonight
Upon your distant shore
I have found the solid ground
That I've been looking for

On the rock of your love
On the stone hard truth
On the rock of your love
I found my living proof

On the rock of your love
I found my living proof
