

John Kelly & Maite Itoiz, Someday

Someday you will be sorry too
Someday you'll be sorry too
Cause the time won't heal
Nor your apology will heal
The wounds of life
Someday you will be crying too
Someday you will be crying too
Trying to find the truth
Don't you know it's gone away from you
The wounds of life
I will be there to see the end of madness
I will be there not to blame your actions
Cause I am no one to judge
You must learn those things alone
Oh yes, the wounds of life
Someday you'll see the things were gone
Someday you'll see your life that's gone
But it seems that you will never learn
It is maybe that you still pretend
The wounds of life
I will be there to see the end of madness
I will be there not to blame your actions
Cause I am no one to judge
You must learn those things alone
Oh yes, the wounds of life
The wounds of life
The wounds of life
