

John Legend, Surefire

Can you just stay through the night?
Turn down the bed and the blinds
Before you turn around
Can you just stay through the night?
Let me breath you in till gravity bends
And we fall through the hole in the light
Make this our kingdom
Somewhere where good love conquers and not divides

Cause I may not know a lot of things but I feel it in my chest
Know I won't let the blue flame die
We can't lose hope just yet
Cause it's once, just once in a lifetime
And we're scared to love but it's alright
I may not know a lot of things but
I know that we're surefire /2x

Can't keep this bed warm on the left side
When something is cold as a goodbye
Why don't you turn around?
Ignore all that shit from the outside
The world is a nightmare
Wake up and stay here
Let me be on your side
We'll make this our kingdom
Somewhere where good love conquers and nod divides

Oh my, oh my oh my God
I'm so /3x
Tired of fighting
Let go
Give in
Let go and give up

I may not know a lot of things but I feel it in my chest
Know I won't let the blue flame die
We can't lose hope just yet
Cause it's once, just once in a lifetime
And we're scared to love but it's alright
I may not know a lot of things but
I know that we're surefire /2x

Oh my, oh my oh my God
I'm so /3x
Tired of fighting
Let go
Give in
Let go and give up

I may not know a lot of things but I feel it in my chest
Know I won't let the blue flame die
We can't lose hope just yet
Cause it's once, just once in a lifetime
And we're scared to love but it's alright
I may not know a lot of things but
I know that we're surefire /2x
