

John Mayer, Tracing

do you ever get the feelin that we started in the middle?
or have you ever had the sense that weve been lying just a little?
i mean come on its not like weve known ourselves that long and i cant say i really blame you for being bored with the beginning always staring at the score to figure out whos barely winning but dont you know there is a reason strong, move slow and im okay

if youre okay with wasting time but when you trace
you always see the bottom line

we are tracing
i hope you know
and if you want to know the moment i knew that i was still alone i found i never learned your number i only stored it in my phone youd think by now id know the shape of calling home

and im okay

i hope you know
were both alone
we are tracing

did you ever get the feeling that we started in the middle?
that weve been lying just a little?
its not like weve knew ourselves that long
